

David Miller was employed by Sheffield City Council for over 30 years as both Management Trainer and Finance Manager. From 2012, he acted as Freelance Trainer for the YHFED for six years, running an annual programme of skills development for museum and art gallery staff, and the Next Generation Management Development Programme. He was also a school governor for 20 years, chairing a secondary academy governing body in his last role, and acted as Trustee for the Yorkshire Waterways Museum. Since his retirement as Freelance YHFed trainer he has been pleased to take on trustee role.